

College Forensic Society Sponsors Intramural Debates

First Tournament In History Of School Will Be Held On October 27 And 28

The first intramural debate in the history of Alabama College will be sponsored by Pi Kappa Delta, national honorary forensic fraternity, in debate and public speaking, on Friday and Saturday, October 27-28. The question chosen for debate is, "Resolved: That graduation from Alabama College should be dependent upon a passing grade in a comprehensive examination taken at the end of the senior year." The first two rounds will be held Friday night, October 27, at 7 o'clock. The second will be held Saturday at 2 o'clock. After the last round a trophy, selected by Pi Kappa Delta, will be presented to the winning team in a general convocation in Palmer Auditorium.

Teams are now being selected from Ramsay, Hanson, East Main, West Main, and Central Main, and from the cooperative houses. Students living in town are included among entrants from the cooperative houses. Each housing unit will enter one affirmative and one negative team and one alternate for each team.

The purpose of the tournament is to create a campus-wide interest in debate such as that which exists on other campuses having chapters of Pi Kappa Delta. It is strictly a contest for amateurs. No person who has ever represented the college in a debate is eligible to participate. Teams are hard at work selecting material and gathering information. Pi Kappa Delta is very anxious that all debating in this tournament be on a high plane of excellency and teams are being coached with this end in view. Campus interest is lively and we are looking forward to a most successful tournament.

All townspeople are cordially invited to attend all of these debates.

Zone Meeting Held With Helena Church

The zone meeting of the Women's Missionary Society was held September 27 at the Methodist Church in Helena, with Mrs. Frank Denison of Calera, zone leader, presiding.

The Rev. J. M. Shores of Montevallo conducted the morning devotional. A representative of each auxiliary present gave a report of work being done in their respective society.

Mrs. Masters, our district secretary, is always an inspiration, leading us on to follow in the footsteps of our Master. She brought interesting information concerning our fall study. The afternoon devotional period was led by Mrs. Villadsen of Aldrich. Mrs. O. B. Cooper of Montevallo gave a report of the courtesy committee. The report expressed not only the appreciation of the warm welcome extended by the ladies of Helena, and of the delightful luncheon served, but also for the beauty of the church, and the lovely flowers arranged in it.

Mrs. Chapman, superintendent of Christian relations, brought an inspiring message on "An Informed Christian Citizen." Special music added much to the program. The group joined in singing "O Zion Haste," after which the meeting adjourned with prayer by Bro. Campbell.

COTTON REPORT

The cotton ginning report by Gordon Mooney, special agent of the Bureau of the Census, shows that 496 bales of cotton were ginned in Shelby County from the crop of 1939 prior to September 16, as compared with 629 bales for the crop of 1938.

Mrs. Annie Armstrong and Mrs. Delia Traywick, of Clanton, are spending this week with Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Armstrong.

Mme. Metzelthin Is Next On Concert And Lecture Program

After entertaining capacity houses for the opening number of its concert and lecture series—a visit by the Marine Band—Alabama College will present as its second feature Madame Pearl V. Metzelthin, internationally known lecturer, October 30-31. Mrs. Metzelthin is one of the world's top-flight authorities on food and social customs. She holds degrees in her chosen field from the Sorbonne and the University of Berlin. For many years during the post-war period she held the professorship of nutrition at Berlin University.

Mme. Metzelthin has lived as a diplomat's wife in China, and in her own active years has lived in South Africa, Australia, and India. For her work among lepers and in the Nansen relief program after the war she was decorated by the International Red Cross. Besides her other accomplishments, she is a graduate in medicine.

Varying her usual practice, Mme. Metzelthin will spend two days on the campus at Montevallo, visiting classroom groups, holding conferences with advanced students, and conferring with faculty members. Her formal lecture will be on the evening of October 30 in Palmer Hall at 8:15.

Legion Commander To Visit Local Post

Department Commander Charles E. Wiggins and his "tourade" party composed of the department vice-commander, department adjutant, and area and district commanders, will visit the Legion posts of Shelby County next Tuesday, October 10.

They will be at Montevallo for lunch on that date at noon, as guests of Hendrick-Hudson Post. All World War veterans in this vicinity are invited to attend and take part in the luncheon. If you expect to attend, notify Post Adjutant R. P. Holcomb in advance so he can make reservation for you.

Meanwhile, pay your Legion dues so Adjutant Holcomb can turn over your card to the department adjutant on his visit here.

The Commander's party will be at Calera at 2 p.m. and at Columbiana at 3:30 p.m., going down to Clanton that night.

MONTEVALLO STUDENTS AT THE UNIVERSITY

University, Ala.—The town of Montevallo leads among communities in Shelby County in sending students to the University of Alabama for the opening of its 109th regular session.

Students from Montevallo number four. Other towns which have students at the University are: Columbiana, three; Newala, two; and Pelham, Calera, and Helena each have one representative.

Those from Montevallo are Norris Z. Nathews, Jadie A. Brown, Jr., Laura Elliott, and William B. White. Students from Columbiana are Wales W. Wallace, Frank H. Martin, and Conrad M. Fowler.

Those from Newala are Julian P. Hardy and William T. Hardy.

Representatives from each of the other towns are Luther H. Nunnally, Jr., Helena; Virginia F. Bridgewater, Pelham; and G. C. Long, Jr., Calera.

Revival At Wilton To Start Next Sunday

Revival services will begin next Sunday at the Wilton Baptist Church. Preaching will be conducted by Rev. T. C. Walden, of Birmingham. Services will be held twice daily, morning and evening.

The pastor, Rev. L. T. Reeves, and the membership of the church extend a cordial invitation to everyone to attend the services.

Shelby County School Allotment Increased To $91,530.00

A telegram to The Times from Congressman Pete Jarman Tuesday brings the good news that Shelby County's school allotment of federal funds has been approved, increasing the figure to $91,530.00. Mr. Jarman said:

"I have just been advised of approval of our amendatory application on yesterday for Shelby County schools. I am pleased to advise that the allotment has thereby been increased to $91,530, grant only. Kindest regards to all friends in Shelby County."

Incidentally, we have noted in recent dispatches from Washington that Mr. Jarman is keeping in very close touch with neutrality proceedings now before Congress. As a member of the Foreign Affairs committee of the House, Mr. Jarman was one of the administration leaders last summer when the neutrality measure was up for consideration. He will be in the front ranks of the President's supporters again when the present bill arrives on the House floor.

Board Of Registrars Named By Governor

Announcement was made from the State Capitol last week of the appointment of boards of registrars for the several counties by Governor Dixon.

The appointments given for Shelby County were J. A. King, chairman, Pelham; O. P. Head, Wilton; Mrs. Jamie Henry Reynolds, Montevallo.

For Chilton County the appointments were W. W. Wingard, Clanton; A. J. Lecroy, Maplesville; E. R. Piper, Thorsby.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY

Circle No. 1 of the Missionary Society will meet with Mrs. W. D. Jackson next Monday afternoon at three o'clock. Mrs. Jackson lives at Hedgerow Apartments.

"One Hundred Years of Women's Progress" Is Theme For Anniversary

During the week of October 8 to 14, the Montevallo Business and Professional Women's Club will join in the observance of National Business Women's Week.

This week is set apart each year for the recognition of the contributions made by women to business and the professions. The special theme for this year is "One Hundred Years of Women's Progress."

The local club plans to decorate the show windows of The Little Shop to carry out this theme, and all business houses of the village are invited to join them in this observance by placing special displays in their windows which will tend to carry out the national theme, or which will at least be of particular interest to business women.

The following letter of greeting was sent by President Roosevelt to the club's national president:

"My dear Dr. Maffett:

"It would seem to me that rarely in the past has National Business Women's Week held as much significance as it does this year. The past century has seen American women step out more and more in-

Founder's Day To Be Observed Oct. 12

Plans are now going forward at Alabama College for the observance on October 12 of Founders Day. Homecoming for alumnae, usually held in connection with Founders Day, has been postponed and will instead be a feature of College Night on the Montevallo campus next February.

Founders Day this year will be a restaging of many of the program features which characterized the first Founders Day in 1896.

The Alumnae Association has charge of the program, reminiscent of the Gay Nineties when the institution was founded after years of agitation by noted feminists, headed by Miss Julia Tutwiler. The "auld lang syne" note, looking backward half a century, stresses the scene as it was in the late Victorian days when the college was launched.

The first Founders Day which this event commemorates was held in Reynolds Hall, oldest building on the present campus. Reynolds Hall, still in use, is being converted, with PWA assistance, into a modern College Union Building, where campus social life will center and student organizations have their offices.

The alumnae association is engaged in raising $4,000 with which to furnish Reynolds Hall. More than half of this sum has been raised already, according to Miss Frances Ribble, alumnae secretary.

Charles C. Ambrose Died In Selma

Selma, Ala.—Charles C. Ambrose, 72, well known retired car man for the Southern Railroad at Wilton for many years, died in a Selma hospital Friday night after an illness of nine months. Mr. Ambrose was a member of the Baptist Church.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Alice Mae Ambrose, of Wilton; three brothers, J. B. Ambrose, Bessemer; E. S. Ambrose, Wilton, and Will Ambrose of Blocton. J. West Little, of Selma, well known conductor for the Southern, is a brother-in-law. The body was sent from Brislins Brothers Funeral Home, 431 Broad St., to Wilton, leaving here at 11:35 a.m., Saturday. The funeral was held at 2:30 p.m., from the Wilton Baptist Church with the Rev. Reeves officiating. Burial followed in the Montevallo Cemetery.

Robert Reynolds Simpson, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Simpson, is improving nicely after a tonsillectomy in a Birmingham hospital.

Miss Katherine Fancher and Mrs. Polly G. Lester are spending this week in Indianapolis, Ind.

Marine Band Gives Two Concerts In Palmer Hall

Program Numbers Range From Favorite Folk Songs To The Famous Classics

With a host of out-of-town visitors sprinkled through the audience, and a large turn-out of townspeople, Alabama College played host Monday to the United States Marine Band. The band played both an afternoon and an evening concert in Palmer Hall. At both programs the hall was filled to capacity.

In the afternoon William F. Santelman, leader of the band, recognizing what appeals to the hundreds of elementary and high school students present, constructed a sound but light program which ran the gamut from the "Blue Danube Waltz" to the Marines' own rallying song. There was a light and tripping note of spontaneous gaiety which completely captivated the youthful audience, as the band moved deftly from program number to encore and back again.

To an audience unusually responsive and appreciative, Mr. Santelman was equally generous with encores. The several soloists, Oliver Zinsmeister at the xylophone, Edward Masters with the cornet, and Robert Isele with the trombone, were especially well received.

The evening program, although not without its playful interludes, was built along more serious lines. From the sober, intricate "Grand Scenes" from "Boris Godounov" by Moussorgsky, which was the curtain-raiser, to the ever popular "Cake Walk," the uniformed musicians showed their breadth of repertoire. The band seemed on surest ground in giving a masterful rendition of "Cypress Silhouettes," a modern rhapsody of the South, by Bennett. Brass and strings warred with each other to paint a fantasy of swamp and hollow, typical of the Deep South. Out of the shrewd tonal modulations came the faint cry of the lonesome Negro singing on the bayou, the lone hunter following his pack.

Although both programs were quite long and were expanded by reason of the vigorous demands made by the audience, the consensus among Montevallo listeners was that the band did a workmanlike job, with the democratic latitude of the programs being one of but many pleasing features.

Paving Project Started By WPA This Week

The WPA force is on the job and busy with preparations preliminary to starting the street paving project. Mr. Marshall, formerly in charge of a job at Calera, is the foreman. He and his family are living at Mrs. Hoskin's.

Headquarters for the job have been established in the old shop building across the street from Mrs. Hoskin's, where an office is being fitted out, and additional space to be used for storage of equipment, supplies and material.

The first unit of 40-odd men will be organized and started to work this week. No definite statement was available as to where the work will begin. However, it was stated by Mayor Acker that the foreman has indicated that the higher ground will be worked first, owing to the better suitability for working in the kind of weather that is likely to prevail during the months immediately ahead.

The work will be planned and carried out so as to cause the least possible discomfort to the people of the community, it is assured.

Mr. J. T. Bagwell and Mr. Leon Hicks motored to Birmingham Tuesday afternoon.

Miss Agnes Tutwiler, teacher in the Montevallo High School, is seriously ill in King Memorial Hospital, Selma.

THE MARINE BAND

The Concert and Lecture Committee of Alabama College richly deserves the hearty commendation they have received for bringing to us the superb events of the two concerts by the United States Marine Band Monday.

The occasion made it possible for us to drink a copious draught of rapture that might not have been our privilege in a lifetime. And most certainly we agree now that an opportunity to hear and see the Marine Band is something that will never be erased from our book of pleasant memories.

To describe the emotions kindled in the hearts of people who witness this performance is as impossible as to adapt mere words to a definition of ecstasy.

Everyone in the great audiences sat breathlessly enthralled as the golden strains of perfect charm poured forth from the instruments each responding in glorious harmony to the touch of fingers and lips of the musicians. It was heavenly. All else was forgotten. Every soul was tuned in the limitless splendor that swelled up from the great stage and carried away into realms of indescribable enchantment.

IN CASE OF FIRE

The Times has been requested to publish information about how to get in touch with the fire department in case of necessity to do so.

Accordingly, we inquired of Chief Gardner, and he answered our query very briefly with the statement, "Look in your telephone directory."

We did, and here is what we found: Call 5431, and if that number does not answer, call 6081.

Elsewhere we are printing a little "box" telling you what to do in case of fire: Clip it out and paste it on the wall beside your telephone. That will enable you to call quicker than you can look up the numbers in the phone book.

ADVICE FOR ALL OF US

The most pertinent comment on the war crisis comes to us from "Col. Bluebottle" of West Bucksnort, Hale County, Alabama, with Editor Will Yerby, of The Greensboro Watchman, relaying the message. Asked his opinion about the war situation, as it pertained to the United States, the West Bucksnort philosopher replied:

"It's a darn sight easier to get into trouble than to get out of it; easier to tie a hard knot than to untie it; easier to fall down a well than to fall up it — unless aided by a bunch of dynamite; so, in these perilous days, let's keep our shirts on; our heads cool; our feet warm; our bowels open; our conscience clear; stop, look and listen; be sure we are right and then go ahead — until we find we are wrong, and when we do that, go back to where we started from and take another honest start."—Tuscaloosa News.

Mr. J. E. Swinford of Route 1 returned from the Veterans Hospital last Friday. He was carried to the facility August 31 for an emergency appendix operation.

Francis Killingsworth, student at Auburn, spent last week-end at home in Montevallo.

A bus load of students from the school for the blind at Talladega were here Monday to hear the Marine Band concert.

The Agriculture Department forecast this year's cotton crop Friday as 12,300,000 bales of 500 pounds gross weight. That forecast of production, based on the condition of the crop September 1, compared with a forecast of 11,412,000 bales a month ago, 11,943,000 bales produced last year, and 13,800,000 bales, the average production for the ten years.

HI CAPPA CAPPA

Plato would possibly turn around in his toga if he found the words "Hi Cappa Cappa" added to his classic Greek, but then he never lived on the Alabama College campus where up-and-coming young moderns have their own word for it.

In Montevallo the words express the superlative. Hi Cappa Cappa is the club exclusively for students of extraordinary height. In fact, the president, Sara Christenberry, of Selma, has an altitude of 6 feet.

The club has been organized to bring together all those girls who stand out in every group the fair Amazons of this streamlined age. The purpose of the organization is primarily social, but there are frequent discussions of ways and means for tall girls to appear at their best. The club flower is the hollyhock, symbolizing the lofty ideals of Hi Cappa Cappa.

Officers are, Miss Christenberry, president; Frances Croley, Davis, vice-president, and Lucille Scott, Siluria, secretary-treasurer. Members include Martha Terry, Greensboro, height 5 ft. 9 1/4 in.; Evelyn Mayhall, Elkmont, 5 ft. 8 1/4 in.; Mary Jo Wesson, Lanett, 5 ft. 8 in.; Marion Bradford, Hollywood, 5 ft. 8 in.; Helen Weaver, Gadsden, 5 ft. 8 in.

SOIL DISTRICTS TO BE MODEL AREAS

Auburn, Ala. — A changed and more intelligent farming is on its way in Alabama. Plans to make three soil conservation districts models for good land use planning have been drafted by supervisors of the districts and submitted to the state soil conservation committee, it was revealed today by S. R. Doughty, secretary of the committee.

The three districts are Piedmont, composed of Clay, Coosa, Chambers, Tallapoosa, and Randolph; Central Alabama, composed of Autauga, Lowndes, Dallas, Montgomery, and Wilcox; the Tombigbee - Warrior, composed of Lamar, Fayette, Walker, Marion, and Winston. Formation of these districts was made possible by a law passed at the first session of this year's legislature and approved by land owners in referendum held early this summer.

Work plans have been prepared for the three districts and include a well-rounded program for soil and water conservation. All known means of erosion control and water conservation will be employed to halt erosion toll in the districts.

Among those measures to be put into operation in the districts by farmers working in cooperation with the Extension Service, Soil Conservation Service, and other agencies, are rotations which include full and intelligent use of cover crops, the establishment of seed plots for the production of lespedeza, crotalaria, crimson clover, and any other plant that fits into the rotation system; strip cropping, and contour tillage; terracing; establishment of pastures; development of farm woodlands; establishment of wildlife areas; and many others.

In general charge of each district will be boards of supervisors composed of five farmers each. Work units of the Soil Conservation Service and county agents will assist farmers in making five-year, and shorter, conservation plans. "The change will not be an overnight one," Doughty said, "however, in these districts work is going forward."

New York Skyscrapers Form Back Drop For Air View of Fair

The picture shows the Fair's close proximity to Broadway and the skyscrapers of upper Manhattan. Actually the Fair is only 10 minutes from Broadway by Long Island Railroad, and about 25 minutes by subway. By motor the trip requires about 30 minutes, with 5 parking fields furnishing ample space.

New Ford V-8 Is On Display At Wooten Motor Co. This Week

The new Ford car will be on display in Montevallo tomorrow, Friday, October 6, according to Wooten Motor Co., authorized Ford dealers. There are said to be a number of noticeable improvements on the 1940 Ford. You are invited to come in and take a squint at the new Ford, says Wooten Motor Co.

Enriched by refinements made possible by the manufacture under a single unified management of five cars which virtually bracket the motor market, the Ford V-8 and the deluxe Ford V-8 cars for 1940, announced today, present notable advances in styling, comfort, convenience and safety.

The new cars are big, substantial and powerful in appearance. Body lines are pleasingly streamlined. Front end designs are distinctly modern, with low radiated grilles, long hoods and deeply rounded fenders. The trimly tailored interiors are big and roomy, with plenty of seat room, leg room, elbow room, and shoulder room.

STUDY CLUB HOLDS FIRST FALL MEETING

The Montevallo Study Club held the first meeting of the fall and winter season last Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. M. P. Jeter, Jr., with Mrs. M. C. Jeter as co-hostess. Sixteen members were present. The president, Mrs. Tidwell, presided at the business meeting.

Mrs. Murray Fancher reported the activities of the civic committee during the summer. Efforts were made to have weeds and grass cut on vacant lots in the town. The welfare chairman, Mrs. Wills, announced a rummage sale for the first Saturday in October. Mrs. Reynolds gave an outline of the programs for the year which are to be miscellaneous in subject.

National Constitution Day was observed by a talk on the constitution by Mrs. Reynolds. An interesting parliamentary drill was conducted by Mrs. Wills, it being in the form of a skit. After a social hour, the meeting adjourned.

Lightning rods often become useless because they are neglected. The most common cause is that the grounding breaks or becomes badly corroded.

The United States has been notified that Great Britain has removed import quotas on cured pork products, thereby opening the way for increased sales of American meats. L. A. Wheeler of the Agriculture Department's foreign service said the action was taken so the British might obtain ample supplies to feed their armed forces. The quotas affected hams, bacon, and some other cured pork products. Lard, the major American pork export product, was not affected by the British quota system.

RECRUITS SOUGHT FOR U. S. ARMY AIR CORPS

The farthest point of land and the last rolling surge of the seven seas have been sought out by the pioneers and their secrets laid bare. But the air, in which man has just barely begun to use his new-found wings, is still a realm apart, romantic, fascinating, inviting. In spite of the achievements in aviation during the past decade, the air is still unexplored. It is a field in which men with many talents are needed. If you seek adventure, if you seek an outlet for your inventive genius in a profession with untold possibilities, then a job awaits you in aviation.

There is no better way to enter aviation than by enlistment in the Air Corps of the United States Army. It conducts technical schools for the training of qualified enlisted technicians and specialists of all types.

Broadly speaking, the following are the specialist pursuits followed by Air Corps enlisted technicians: Aerial photography, airplane and airplane engine maintenance, armament, machine shop work, meteorology, parachute rigging, radio operation and maintenance, sheet metalcraft, and welding. The Air Corps also needs good clerks, cooks, and stewards.

Applicants who have the following qualifications are urged to apply at the United States Army Recruiting Office, Room 29, Federal Building, Birmingham, Ala.: Age 18 to 35, unmarried, without criminal record, without dependents, high school graduate or experienced tradesman, good moral character, and must be able to pass the intelligence and physical examinations.

Applications Must Be Filled Out Plainly Says Driver's License Division

For the information, aid and guidance of applicants for 1940 driver's licenses, a properly filled out application is reproduced above. It is of the utmost importance that every letter and figure appearing on the completed application be legible. According to advice from the Driver's License Division office at Montgomery, a great many applications have already been received that were filled out so dimly it was necessary to have them retraced. This has occurred most frequently, it is said, where a typewriter or black ink were used. A light typewriter ribbon's writing or that done with very weak black ink cannot be picked up well by the photostatic machine used in producing licenses issued to drivers, and a very dimly outlined license is the result.

The word "City" only should not be used in giving the name of the city or town in which the applicant resides. In every instance, the name should be written out in full. Signatures should be written on the line indicated for that purpose, as any writing appearing under the line is not reproduced by the photostatic equipment used in getting out the licenses. It is not necessary for the applicant to write his or her name on the signature line. Their usual signature is all that is required. No number or mark should be placed in the space that reads "Permanent License Number." No holes should be punched in application forms.

Applications that omit any part of the description of the applicant will have to be held up while the Driver's License Division writes to the applicant and obtains this information. One of the most important things for applicants to remember in filling out an application form is to be sure and give the year of their births, as well as the month and date. Scores of applications have been received giving the month and date, but not the year of the applicant's birth. The year must be included, as it is of vital importance that License Division officials know the correct age of the applicant.

PLUGGED SHOTGUN MUST BE USED FOR HUNTING

Under a recent regulation approved by the Alabama director of conservation and the conservation advisory board, all persons who hunt game animals or birds in Alabama this season must not use a shotgun that will shoot more than three times at one loading. The "plugged gun" has been mandatory in the taking of migratory birds such as ducks and doves for several years under federal regulations, but this is the first time that the State of Alabama has applied this regulation to all its game birds and animals.

Users of automatic or pump shotguns must insert a plug which will allow the gun to shoot only three times at one loading, and violation of this regulation is punishable by arrest and fines. Also, a gun larger than 10-gauge may not be used in hunting.

HEALTH NOTES

Every family that uses household servants, whether white or colored, should require them to produce a health certificate before giving them employment.

This should include a negative Wasserman test and a negative tuberculin skin test.

Only a comparatively small percent of positive reactors to the tuberculin test are found to have active tuberculosis. However, a positive reaction to the test should be followed by an X-ray examination to definitely exclude active tuberculosis.

It is not unusual to find a nurse or cook, who is coming in close daily contact with small children and other family members, to be suffering from syphilis or tuberculosis. In syphilis if the servant has no infectious lesions, it is much safer to retain him or her, provided they take regular treatment, than to have one who has had no examination.

In school examinations, one of the most frequent conditions found is neglect of the teeth. Every child should be provided with a toothbrush and taught to use it properly and regularly. In addition, he should be taken to the dentist at least twice a year for examination and detection of early defects.

Proper mouth hygiene and proper diet, including milk, cereals, fruits and vegetables, are necessary to insure good teeth.

In spite of the preventive measures available, diphtheria is still entirely too prevalent. Toxoid protects a very large percentage of children from this disease but there is a small percentage who are not completely immunized by the single dose or who lose their immunity.

To detect this small number, it is recommended that the Schick skin test be used about three months after the toxoid is given.

The best procedure is to give toxoid at 6 months of age; do the Schick test three months later and test again just before the child is ready to enter school.

Chamber Of Commerce To Meet October 19 In Birmingham

Calling attention to the rapid strides Alabama has made during the past year, S. A. Lokey, director of the Alabama State Chamber of Commerce for Shelby County, today issued a statement urging business, agricultural and civic leaders from this county to attend the annual meeting of the State Chamber in Birmingham on October 19.

The annual meeting at Birmingham will be devoted to an all-Alabama review of progress during the last 12 months and will map the State Chamber's program for the coming year.

"Under the stimulus of the State Chamber campaign for a better balanced economy, Alabama has moved forward along many fronts during the past year," the statement said. "Many new plants have been established, improved agricultural practices have been more widely adopted and a nation-wide publicity campaign to advertise Alabama's opportunities has been outlined."

"All of these advances will be reviewed at the annual meeting at a program on which Alabama notables will speak. Our decision to use only Alabama speakers was in line with the State Chamber contention that unless Alabamians build their own state, no one else will do it."

The State Chamber official stressed the fact that the meeting at Birmingham will be the most representative group of agricultural and industrial leaders, both large and small, ever held in the state, and predicted that the program to be adopted for the next 12 months would result in even broader advances in 1940.

EXTRA BED IN HOME IS GOAL OF FARM WOMEN

Auburn, Ala.—An extra day bed or a studio couch is the goal of many Alabama home demonstration club women this fall, reports Etna McGaugh, state home demonstration agent. These extra beds are to be used to make the living room more livable where crowded living conditions prohibit extra rest units for the family, or give a guest bedroom for the home.

These extra beds are varied in use and in cost. The 40 pounds of cotton needed will be grown at home and the labor for building these beds will be home-grown also. In addition to this, these extra day beds and studio couches will cost from $5 to $8, varying according to the quality of material used in the frame, springs, ticking, and upholstery material.

Many farm families will save from $1.25 to $2.50 even on this cash outlay, as they will use home grown timber in making the frames. Five dollars in cash and home labor and home products will insure many farm families an extra bed or studio couch which will brighten up a living room.

The need of extra beds of this type which can be used as a sofa or couch for daytime use in many farm homes converts the old-time combination bedroom and living room into an up-to-date living room. Farm families, especially the "teen" age group of children, are going to enjoy many hours of home recreation in these modernized living rooms. This will result in finer family life, and the growing of better personalities in the farm family.

DIPHTHERIA TOXIN GIVEN TO SCHOOL CHILDREN

Montgomery, Ala. — Free Schick toxin to determine susceptibility to diphtheria was administered to 31,320 school children and others in this state during the first seven months of this year, as compared with only 27,140 persons receiving this test during the first seven months of last year, according to announcement today by the State department of Health.

This toxin is manufactured by Bureau of Laboratories and furnished Bureau of Laboratories and furnished without charge to private physicians and county health departments. The Bureau of Laboratories also manufactures and distributes free toxoid, which provides immunity to this disease.

Billie Blevins, who is attending school in Birmingham, spent the week-end at home.

RECENT BRIDE HONORED WITH SHOWER

Monday afternoon, October 2, the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Harper, on Siluria Road, was the scene of a lovely shower given in honor of Mrs. Orrville Allen (nee Miss Clarice Harper).

Contests and games were enjoyed by those present, after which the gifts were displayed. A delightful salad course was served to the guests.

The following guests registered during the afternoon: Mesdames G. R. Scott, T. M. Wyatt, Chris Butler, Eugene Grady, Mary Cost, Oscar Cobb, Burr Nabors, Sims, Cecil Zuiderhouk, Madge Eddings, Andrew Davis, John Bailey, Amos Davis, Walter Lee, George Armstrong, Millard Douglas, Nathan Frost, E. L. Garrett, F. M. Draper, J. R. Harper, R. G. Butler, L. O. Stonecipher, Misses Gladys Harrison, Sara Mattie Wyatt, Ruby Davis, Annie Bailey, Minnie Draper, Ruth Harper, and the honoree.

Proud of a "brand spanking new" stockyard are Wilcox Countians. Up-to-date in every detail, the yard is one of the best in the state. It cost $4,000 and in the first two weeks had been the medium for 450 head of cattle passing from farmer to buyer. It has 50 pens and will handle as many as 500 head of cattle at a time, says E. H. Kelley, county agent.

To prevent wooden salad bowls from warping and developing frilly edges and ripples, do not let them get soaking wet and keep them away from hot places.

BAPTIST CHURCH

"Accept No Substitute" will be the pastor's theme at the Sunday morning service. At 7:30 p.m. he will speak on "The Holy Spirit in the Old Testament." Sunday School begins at 9:45 a.m. The Baptist Training Union meets at 6:45 p.m. The Circles of the Missionary Society will meet at the church Monday at 3:00 p.m. The Sunbeams will meet at 2:30 Tuesday and the G. A.'s at 3:30 Wednesday.
